Not illustrated. 1852 Excerpt: . with, and the publication of a six-inch survey be suspended until the general map be finished, though the country be really surveyed on that scale, all Scotland will be usefully mapped in ten years. In the Report of the Committee of the House of Commons--for which we are specially indebted to its intelligent chairman, the Hon. Francis Charteris--you will see how the opinions of the eminent civil engineers, Stephenson, Brunei, and Locke, agree with those of the members of the Committee, in the earnest recommendation of the speedy publication of a map upon a one-inch scale for general purposes. In fact, the Committee could not avoid being strongly impressed with the declaration of a previous Parliamentary Committee appointed to inquire into the state of geography in Ireland, who reported that, after an expenditure of 850,000/., and the publication of a complete six-inch survey, the sister country was still without a map. The six-inch survey is, in truth, much too cumbrous for consultation in county matters; and though there are certain tracts of mining-ground where it is unquestionably of value, it is too small for many detailed purposes of the engineer and farmer, for most of which a double or even a treble scale is required. Rejoicing, as I did, in the decision of the House of Commons in reference to Scotland, and also in learning that a sufficient sum had been granted to complete the map of all Scotland on the scale of one inch,...
